

WE BUILD YOUR HOME

DEEP FOUNDATIONS IN HOME BUILDING

Joe Wolgast started working hard as a kid, alongside his grandfather, Vince Wolgast. After high school, he borrowed money from his grandfather to buy a backhoe and launched Valley Construction, LLC, later becoming Valley Construction Services, Inc. in 2015. Joe learned every aspect of home building through hands-on experience, understanding what it takes to build quality homes from start to finish.

DECADES OF HOME-BUILDING KNOWLEDGE

With over 30 years in construction and nearly 100 residential projects, Joe knows how to build quality houses. He learned the business firsthand, enabling him to run an efficient company that delivers value. Joe believes a true home comes from listening to customers and understanding their needs. Careful planning prevents issues and keeps customers satisfied. Joe and his team focus on detail and craftsmanship to ensure every home meets the customer expectations now and for years to come.

THE HOMETOWN HOMEBUILDER

When you choose Valley Construction Services, you interact directly with the team building your home. From your first concept to move-in, you'll work with Joe Wolgast himself. He believes building a home should be gratifying and enjoyable. Whether you're experienced or new to homebuilding, Joe provides guidance and insight throughout. With thirty years in the field, Joe uses his practical knowledge to help clients control expenses while delivering outstanding quality.

A TRUSTED COMMUNITY BUILDER

Valley Construction Services has earned a strong reputation in the community. They are BBB-accredited, fully licensed, and members of the HBA, giving you peace of mind when choosing them as your home builder. They back their work with a one-year workmanship warranty and focus on customer satisfaction by providing prompt and reliable service.
